

Nurturer Blue

Blue represents calm. Thoughts of this color pacify us, like a calm blue sea. It creates physiological tranquility and psychological contentment.

Those with BLUE as a Primary Color prefer lives free from tension...settled, united, and secure.

Blue also represents loyalty and a sense of belonging, and yet, when friends are involved, a vulnerability.

BLUE corresponds to depth in feeling and a relaxed sensitivity. It is characterized by empathy, aesthetic experiences, and reflective awareness.

Famous Blues: Mozart, Dorothy (Wizard of Oz), Thomas Jefferson, Cinderella, Gandhi, Mohammed Ali, Jimmy Carter

Adventurous Orange

ORANGE represents energy, power, and strength.

Those with ORANGE as a Primary Color feel the will to achieve results to win, to be successful. They desire all things that offer intense living and full experience.

ORANGE is action: sport, struggle, competition, and productivity.

Famous Oranges: JFK, Amelia Earhart, Lucille Ball, Rhett Butler, FDR, Francis of Assisi, Lee Iacocca, Winston Churchill, Garfield

Visionary Green

GREEN represents persistence, determination, firmness, and consistency.

Those with GREEN as a Primary Color value intellect and capability above all else.

GREEN persons increase their own esteem by being assertive and intellectual. They tend to depend upon information rather than feelings.

Green values practical and creative application of theory and data.

Famous Greens: Socrates, Sherlock Holmes, Benjamin Franklin, Carl Jung, Thomas Edison, Eleanor Roosevelt, Katherine Hepburn, Rosalyn Carter

Traditional Gold

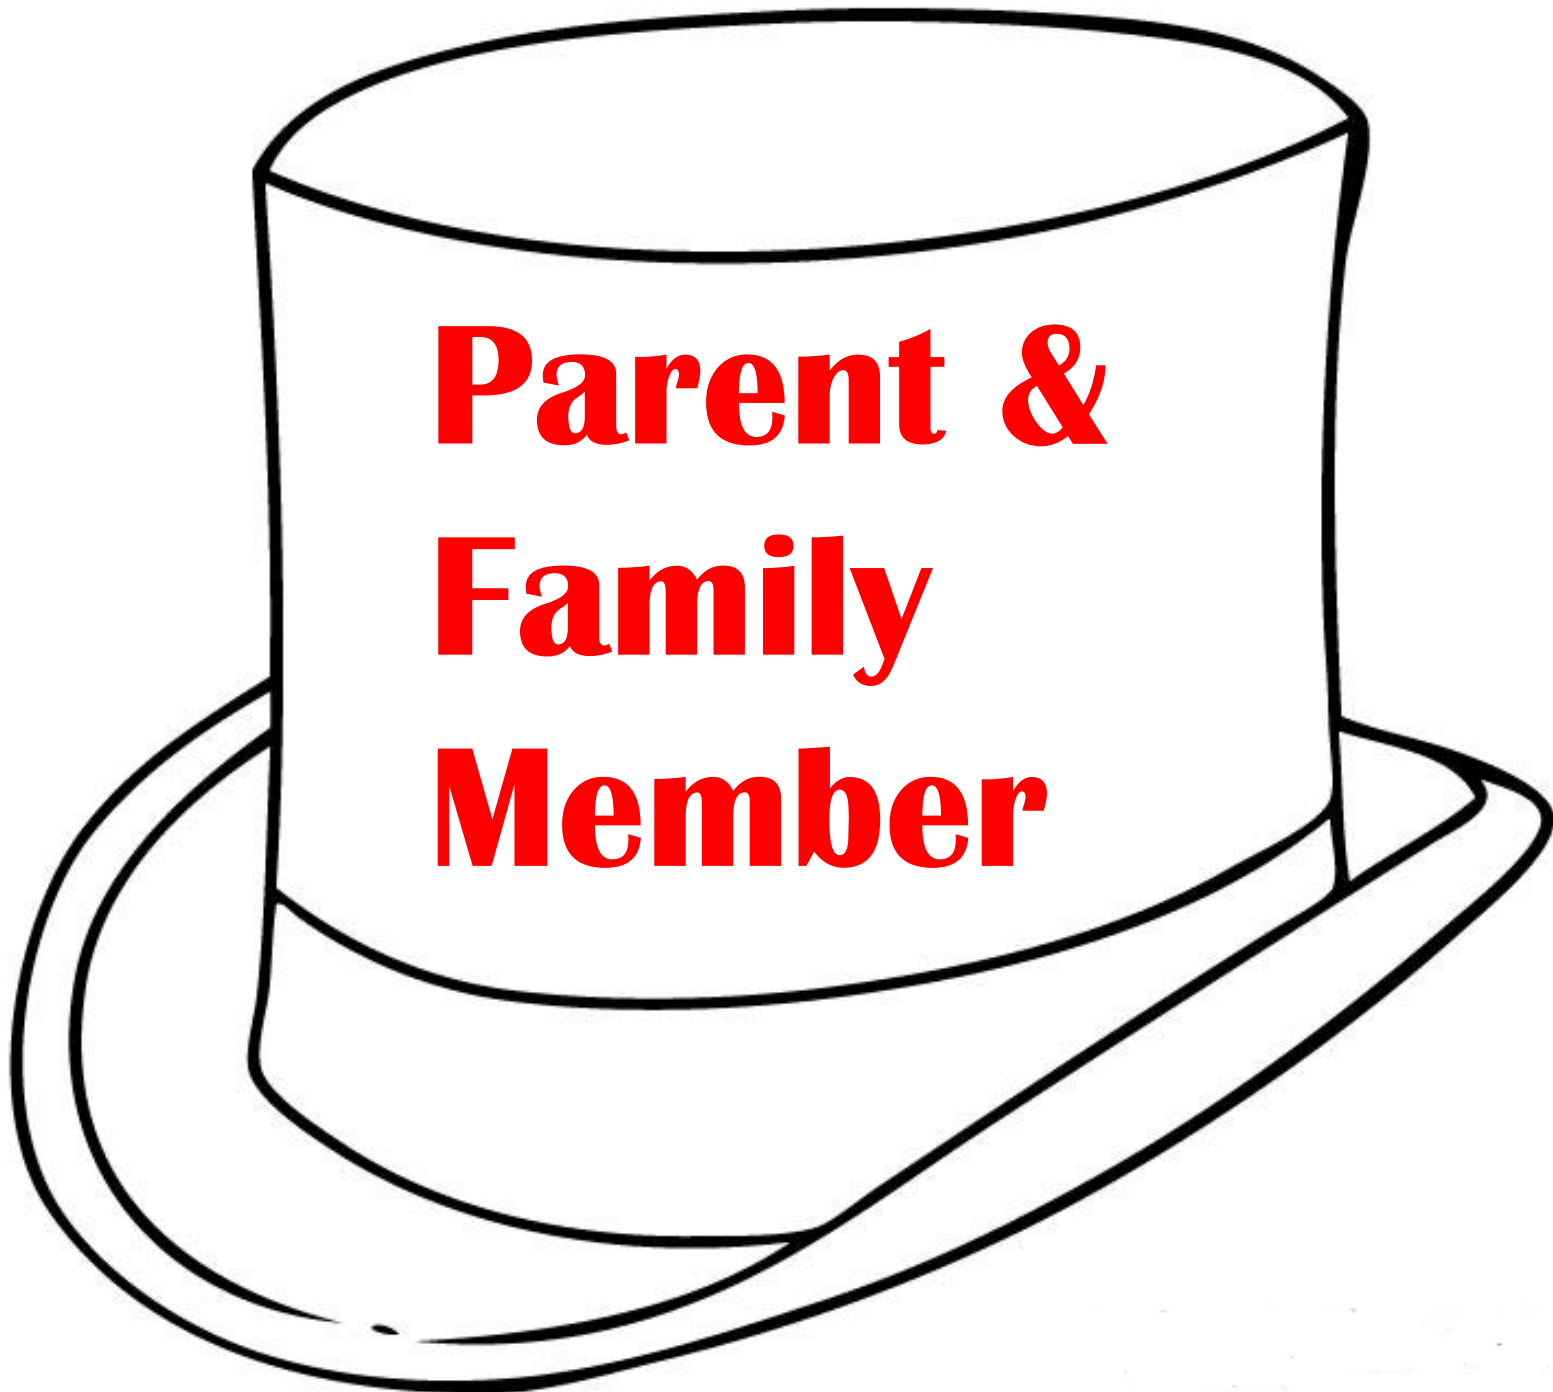

GOLD represents a need to be solid and responsible, to fulfill duties and obligations, to organize and structure our lives and lives of others.

Those with GOLD as a Primary Color value being practical and sensible. They believe that people should earn their way in life through work and service to others.

GOLD reflects a need to belong through carrying a share of the load in all areas of living.

It represents stability, organization, efficiency, and dependability. It embraces the concepts of home and family with fierce loyalty and faithfulness.

Famous Golds: Mother Teresa, George Washington, Santa Claus, LBJ, George Washington, Joan Rivers, Henry Ford, Florence Nightingale

Parent &
Family
Member